A FREE Peace Box for kids & their families in our community packed with skill-building activities, crafts & surprises!

PEACE in a Box

INFORMATIONAL PAGE

Peace Day started in 2018 as a free event for families with elementary-aged children, focusing on positive communication and healthy relationships in a fun and accessible manner. It includes a take-home Peace Box for ongoing family skill-building and learning.

ENGAGING COMMUNITY AT PEACE DAY

This event gathers metro-area families at TCC for a carnival-style day of fun activities that promote conflict transformation themes like naming emotions, discussing feelings with trusted adults and managing anger creatively.

PEACE IN A BOX INCLUDES...

Each child receives a Peace Box and a themed book curated by TCC's Reading for Peace volunteers, with a total of 1,000 boxes distributed at the event and through community partners.

Peace in a Box includes:

- individual and family activities
- crafts and games
- skill-building exercises
- a free social-emotional skills book

The activities aim to boost connection and emotional self-awareness, strengthen relationships between children and trusted adults & promote positive self-talk while teaching healthy anger-management strategies.

BOX DISTRIBUTION: JUNE 1, 2024

Summary:

- specially designed peace boxes for kids aged 4—10
- boxes offered in English & Spanish
- focus on social-emotional learning

Every year, The Conflict Center distributes 1,000 Peace Boxes to families in the Denver Metro area!

Peace Day provides a special chance for families to bond while learning essential skills that help children identify and comprehend emotions.
